Week in Preview

ENGLISH

We will briefly look at irregular plural nouns and proper and common nouns. Be sure to continue studying this week and take a look at quia for review games. These are helpful studying games that the 5th graders are enjoying.

MATH 1

We will be reviewing the chapter concepts in class all week and take our chapter test on Friday. I will also be putting a link up to review games on our math book website that the kiddos can play to help them review.

Math 2

We will review math concepts this week since we have ITBS testing. On Friday, we will begin solving addition and subtraction equations.

MATH 3

We will review math concepts this week before starting ch. 3 on Friday.

Reading

We will be finishing the novels in all classes this week and begin reviewing for the Novel Tests which will be on Tuesday, October 6th. We will not be having Vocab this week because of ITBS testing.

RELIGION

The kids will need to continue researching saints so they can have information when they come to class. They should have 9 note cards of information by Thursday, October 1st. All of the Saint information is on my resource page if for some reason they have misplaced anything.

SCIENCE

This week we will review Chapter 1 in Unit A. The chapter test has been scheduled for October 7th. Please continue to encourage your child to study daily in preparation for the upcoming test.

SOCIAL STUDIES

We will be wrapping up chapter 1 this week by completing our study guide. The test has tentatively scheduled for next Friday.
